Description:

The population of the village of San Vito includes the baker, her short husband, the butcher, the beautiful Maria... but most importantly, the mayor and his rooster. The rooster has been waking up the villagers at 4 a.m., every day, for the last seven years, even on Sundays, even on holidays, and even the day after a holiday! What can be done to get rid of the mayor's rooster? The mayor from the neighbouring village asks to exchange his donkey for the rooster. Voilà, their solution. The people of San Vito are no longer up at 4 a.m., life is more leisurely. Everyone is happy... But not for long. Now, the villagers want their rooster back !
